From The Editor

We had a couple of great clinics in March and April here at NightWind Stables, everyone learned lots and said they'd love to come back for more in the future. I'm looking into having Sue Falkner-March back again later this summer for another Centered Riding clinic and we'll definitely attempt to have another Beginners Endurance Clinic again next spring.

Despite the late start to our spring, the 2011 competition season is finally getting underway. Unfortunately the April endurance ride in Southern Alberta we were planning on attending was cancelled due to extreme wet conditions, but we went on a great ride instead courtesy of Kathy Irvine on some of her great conditioning trails. Had a blast! And show season has started, two of my boarders are on their way to a schooling show tomorrow, May 1st. Good luck, guys!

*Happy Trails,
Colleen*

2007 Region 17 Hunter Pleasure Junior Horse Champion: Burnt Siena is a 2003 Purebred, sweepstakes-nominated mare with fabulous blood lines: Northberry Bey by HBB+/ x Bask Annn [Bold Destiny+/ x Al Marah Radames daughter}) She is chestnut with three white socks; 14.3 hh. I am selling this mare because I got pregnant shortly after I purchased her and feel that her talent is being wasted. I do not have the time she deserves. She is good in the arena and on the trail. She needs a gentle rider, she is very sensitive and honest.

Priced to sell @ $4500.

Here's a funny for everyone, I have no idea where it came from, it was in my files, no doubt courtesy of the internet. Enjoy!

The Minister's Old Horse

A man decides to buy a horse, and heads down to the local used horse yard. The salesman convinces him to buy one particular horse, which appears in good condition. After he has paid his money, and is saddling up, the salesman tells him, "There's just one thing, the horse used to belong to a minister, so to make it go you have to say 'Praise the Lord', and to make it stop, you have to say 'Amen'". This doesn't seem too much of a problem to the man, who mounts his latest acquisition, and shouts, "Praise the Lord", at which the horse trots out the gate and down the road. The man decides to take his horse for a long ride, and heads out of town and into the hills. Suddenly he realizes he is heading for the top of a cliff and panics. "Whoa, stop!!!", he yells, and of course the horse ignores him, and actually speeds up. Now dangerously close to the edge, he contemplates jumping from the horse, which shows no indication of slowing or turning. At the last possible moment, the man remembers the salesman's words, and shouts "Amen!". The horse instantly stops in its tracks, right on the brink of the cliff, sending a shower of stones clattering the hundreds of meters to the bottom. The man pulls out a handkerchief, wipes the sweat from his brow, looks up, and says, "Praise the Lord...."

WELCOME TO ROCHESTER, HORSE TRAILS TOWN, ALBERTA.
" Foreseeing The Ultimate Equestrian Lifestyle ".

Rural living in an atmosphere of comm-unity, breathtaking beauty, and peace describes the natural environment along the Tawatinaw Valley. This central Alberta district is attractive to individuals, and families who would like to enjoy a day, a week-end, or perhaps, participate in the growth, health, and spirit of our unique rural Alberta community.

Located on the historical Athabasca Landing Trail, and the Trans Canada Trail, the planned upgrading of these trails promise outdoor recreational activities, including equestrian, for individuals and families. Evidence of a different era, one of beautiful, natural landscape, open space, miles of riding trails, annual trail rides, fair days, a horse show, including, a scenic valley setting for camping, horse related facilities, a community hall, call Kathy McBETH @ 780 - 698-2591 to reserve, a summer horsemanship camp, amenities at Rochester and Perryvale along the trails, all exist today. A Nordic Centre, Tawatinaw, cross country, and down hill skiing, hiking, hunting, and fishing within a close proximity are available.

The aesthetics along the Tawatinaw Valley, adjacent to Alberta provincial highway No. 2 North, located between Westlock and Athabasca, in the County of Athabasca, No. 12, appeal to the outdoor nature lovers, and trail rider's ultimate wishes.
